Objective

AI Product Designer (Principal)

Portfolio

Specific examples provided by request

I've spent the last 20+ years in digital design, starting with graphic design and evolving through web, interface design, and full-stack development. For nearly a decade, I focused intensely on data-driven design: A/B testing, experimentation, and using data to solve real user problems.

Now I'm at Miro, leading the design of AI Experiences—fundamentally changing how the platform works and how people interact with AI. I care deeply about bridging design craft with strategic thinking and measurable results. I speak at conferences, mentor at universities, and work across teams to ship products that are beautiful and actually useful.

Design Philosophy

Design that works → grounded in data, driven by human needs, built to last.
